Concerts

One of my favourite hobbies is listening to music and I have been very lucky to have been to several concerts. Most of the concerts I have been too were in Norwich, the city I live in, but one concert I went to was in Nottingham for a band called Twenty One Pilots. It was a brilliant concert, they put on a great show and the crowd was excellent. I have four more concerts that I'm going to over the next few months and I am very excited. In 5 days I am going to London to see Panic! At The Disco on the 20th of November and I am so excited!
