

I do not like the rule where you have to sit boy girl because I feel that we should sit where we want to sit, with friends or not. And we should have some sort of choice where we sit. Also, I disagree with the no-gum-rule as some kids work better with gum and it sometimes helps them to concentrate on their work easier. And stops them from looking around the room.