

In the 2016, 20th Century Fox and Marvel Studios movie produced the movie 'Deadpool' which is an action, adventure and comedy movie which was a comic to film adaptation. Tim Miller produced "Deadpool" however he has not made any similar films also he hasn't made many movies he is mostly doing other roles like in Scott Pilgrim Vs the World he was doing the visual effects however in Rockfish and Aunt Luisa he was a writer. Also Rhett Reese and Paul Wernick wrote the screenplay.

Ryan Reynolds, who plays Deadpool, is very well known he has been in other films and shows like 'Family Guy' (1999- present), 'Safe House' (2012), 'Green Lantern' (2011), 'The in-laws' (2003) and many more. Morena Baccarin, who plays Deadpool's love interest is also very well-known she is in 'Gotham' (2014-present), 'The flash' (2014-present), 'Batman: bad blood' (2016) and many more. Ryan Reynolds and Morena Baccarin are both professionals in these genres because they have both starred in numerous action adventure movies and comedies because of this they are both perfect actors for the roles of Deadpool and Deadpool's love interest.

The budget for 'Deadpool' was a massive 58 million dollars however it went over budget by a few million dollars and the films marketing budget was £58,000,000. During the build up to the release of Deadpool there was leaked footage of the movie which only made the people want the movie even more.

The distribution company in the USA and UK was 20th century fox and the movie was released a few countries at a time but in a few days every country was showing Deadpool. In the US alone there was 3,558 screening of Deadpool and in the UK there was 543 screens. The movie was marketed and promoted a lot from chat shows, magazines and promotional posters.

Deadpool was shown in mainstream cinemas like Hollywood cinema or vue however there was never any special version made of Deadpool it was only ever shown in 2D. Even though it was only ever shown in 2D in was still in cinemas for 18 weeks, and made a massive $783,770,709 in the box office and $81,739,015.

The first movie was such a success that there are rumours that there will be a second movie even though nothing has been confirmed it has got the fans of Deadpool very excited and can't wait for the sequel of the movie to come out. There is a lot of high expectations for the second movie. I just hope the movie lives up to the standards of the first movie.
