

I was using the soft pastels to draw the bottles. We had to look at the bottles from your angle and draw the bottles. I was really proud of this piece of art because I took care and I didn't rush. It was also challenging.