

Self Portrait in Clay

Self portrait from clay: practicing sculpture skills using the process of planning, creating and evaluating. Reflection: This is my art work. At the end when I finished it I thought yes it is perfect, but now I think I could have made a few changes. Those are shown now since I have drawn them on. If I could do this again I would make those changes and then I would agree with myself that it is perfect.