

Is whaling right

Introduction

Some people think yes some think no. After this discussion you will find your side of view if killing whales is right or wrong. If whales deserve to get killed. You will find out why people kill whales and why they try to save them.

Reasons why and why not

- First of all there's so many helpful things we can get from whales: meat, oil, wax, cooking margarine, toys, jewelry, perfume and working/hunting tools. Why should we keep them alive if we can get so much from them?
- You kill living creatures just for money maybe lots of money, so you think money is more important than lives lots of lives.
- Well whaling is a fine business, it was a fine business for a long time if whale hunters lose their job. No food, no water, no shelter. What will they do?
- However whales are becoming extinct animals if all get killed then there are no more whales. No more fascinating creatures. If you don't like whales, fine you have the right to not like something but if others don't agree of you killing whales then don't kill them because others won't like that.
- From 3,000 B.C. whaling was the right thing to do, now we should stop. Why now? why not before?
- Some whales have babies, if their parents get killed then babies will die too. You kill much more whales than you think. Now whales die slowly and painfully. Will you like to see your parents die or being the dying one?
